Propositions to be Voted Upon and References Relating Thereto

Proposition No. 1: Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation

1. Reason for the proposition

To further enhance the Board of Directors' supervision of managers, and to facilitate robust and efficient management and sound corporate governance, we are changing the current Articles of Incorporation to make the Company a ‘company with an audit and supervisory committee’ (Companies Act, Article 2, Item 11.2), in which the majority of the members of said committee are Outside Directors. We are also enhancing our management base by establishing a new position of Vice Chairman as a titled Director.

We will also amend the numbering of the Articles accompanying these changes.

2. Details of the changes

The details of the changes are as follows.

The changes to the Articles of Incorporation as contained in this proposition will come into effect at the close of this Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders.

Proposal No. 4 Setting the amounts of remuneration paid to Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members)

The Company will become a Company with an Audit and Supervisory Committee on the condition of the approval and passage of Proposition No. 1: Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation. In accordance with the provisions of Article 361, Paragraphs 1 and 2 of the Companies Act, we will abolish the current Director remuneration framework (excluding that for Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members; hereafter the same throughout this Proposal) and will adopt a new approach that will also take into consideration various factors including the prevailing economic conditions. It is proposed that remuneration for Directors (excluding Outside Directors) be no more than 960 million yen per business year and no more than 40 million yen per business year for Outside Directors. The specific amount of remuneration to be paid to each Director and the timing of the payments, etc., will be decided by resolution of the Board of Directors. In addition, we do not want to include employee salaries in a Director's remuneration for those Directors who hold concurrent positions as employees.

We currently have 18 Directors (of which 2 are Outside Directors); however, if Proposition No. 1 (Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation) and Proposition No. 2 (Election of 15 Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members)) come into effect, the number of Directors will become 15 (of which one will be an Outside Director).

Furthermore, the resolution of Proposal No. 4 shall come into effect on the conditions of the approval and passage of Proposition No. 1 (Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation) as originally proposed, and its changes to the Articles of Incorporation coming into effect.

Proposal No. 5 Setting the amounts of remuneration paid to Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members

The Company will become a Company with an Audit and Supervisory Committee on the condition of the approval and passage of Proposition No. 1 (Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation). In accordance with the provisions of Article 361, Paragraphs 1 and 2 of the Companies Act, we want to adopt a new approach that will also take into consideration various factors including the prevailing economic conditions. It is proposed that remuneration for Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members be no more than 150 million yen per business year, and that the specific amount of remuneration to be paid to each Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee member, and the timing of the payments, etc., will be decided by resolution of the Board of Directors.

If Proposition No. 1 Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation and Proposition No. 3 Election of four (4) Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members) come into effect, we envisage that there will be four (4) Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members.

Furthermore, the resolution of Proposal No. 4 shall come into effect on the conditions of the approval and passage of Proposition No. 1 (Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation) as originally proposed, and its changes to the Articles of Incorporation coming into effect.

Business report for FY2015 (April 1, 2015 to March 31, 2016)

1. Matters Regarding the Current Status of the SCSK Group

1-1 Progress of Operations and Operating Results

In the period under review, the Japanese economy showed an improving trend in both corporate earnings and employment. Various policy initiatives, most notably economic stimulus measures implemented by the government as well as monetary easing policies taken by the Bank of Japan, kept the economy on a mild recovery track, although signs of weakness remain apparent.

In terms of the outlook for the economy, a recovery is expected to continue albeit at a moderate pace, on the assumption that recovery in the employment and income environments will continue. However, a number of factors require close watching, including the risk of a downturn in the overseas economic situation, particularly in emerging economies in Asia and those that rely on exports of natural resources, and volatility in forex rates, interest rates and other aspects of the financial markets.

In the IT services market, demand for strategic IT investment aimed at enhancing competitiveness or supporting advances into new business areas, has continued to rise. Demand for investment in operational systems, generally intended to improve process efficiency, also remains brisk. Overall, IT investment demand is on an uptrend.

In the financial industry in particular, IT investment demand grew substantially among banks, securities companies and insurers, centered on systems development. This reflects a continuing high level of interest in systems development to support various work processes and enhance competitiveness, and solid underlying demand for system upgrades and revisions to accommodate changes in regulations.

In the manufacturing and distribution industries, there has been a solid underlying flow of IT investment deals on an emergence of strategic IT investment, in support of global business expansion, omni-channelization, big data analysis, and other objectives.

Demand for IT services has manifested in earnest in a variety of areas as customers seek to strengthen their businesses or enhance work efficiency. Of particular note is strong demand for networking-related IT products from certain telecommunications service providers, and demand for various cloud-related IT services, including IaaS and PaaS.

In the Company's operating results for the period under review, consolidated net sales increased 8.8% compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year to ¥323,945 million. This reflects brisk demand for systems development among a wide range of financial industry customers, a variety of maintenance services for customers in the manufacturing and distribution industries, and networking-related IT products among telecommunications service providers. Accordingly, there has been steady sales growth in all sales segments, Systems Development, System Maintenance and Operation/ Services, and Packaged Software/ Hardware Sales. Operating income increased 13.5% to ¥31,785 million, mainly due to revenue growth, combined with factors including productivity enhancements on the steady implementation of measures to improve operational quality, increased efficiency in SG&A and other expenses. Ordinary income increased 9.6% to ¥33,610 million. Net income attributable to shareholders rose 72.4% to ¥26,956 million on increased operating income together with the effect of tax deferral accounting.

- (Notes) 1. In the period under review we reclassified the Industrial Systems Business Group and the Global Systems Business Group into three customer-facing segments handling system development: Manufacturing Systems Business Group, Telecommunications Systems Business Group and Distribution Systems Business Group. Simultaneously, we also redistributed IT architecture integration, system management, datacenter (netXDC) services, and other services formerly within the IT Management Group, among multiple segments. In light of these changes, we recast our segment-level results for the previous period and make year-on-year comparisons against those recast results.
2. Sales by segment indicate sales to outside customers.

1-4 Issues to be Addressed

The Group's management philosophy consists of its mission to "create our future of dreams," and three promises for achieving this mission; to "respect each other," "provide excellent service utilizing reliable technology," and "sustain growth from a global and future perspective" Based on this management philosophy, we will apply advanced IT services and innovative ideas to resolve the issues faced by our customers and society at large, create new value through IT, and together create a future in line with the aspirations of our customers and society. It is through this philosophy that we seek continued growth into the future.

We announced our Medium-term Management Plan in April 2015, within which we outline our medium-term management strategies. The plan, which will guide our company over the five years from April 2015 through March 2020, identifies this period as the second stage of our business expansion, through which we will establish ourselves as a top-class firm within our industry. We will build our business on a base of high profitability created following our October 2011 merger and execute a dynamic growth strategy in pursuit of a further increase in corporate value.

The plan centers on three core strategies: (1) shift to a service-oriented business; (2) promote strategic business that captures the changing times"; and (3) effect a "second stage of global business expansion." Also, towards the reinforcement of our earnings base, we will continually strive to raise operational efficiency through measures such as improving the quality of our system development projects, and promoting working style reforms. By implementing these, we will aim to achieve the plan's management targets set for the fiscal year ending March 2020.

1. Shift to a service-oriented business

As a result of factors including a diversification of customer needs and a paradigm shift from ownership to usage of systems, structural changes are beginning to occur, specifically a shift from traditional business models as represented by contract-type and labor-intensive business to service provision-based business. The Company views these structural changes as an opportunity for active growth, and will strongly promote strategic initiatives aimed at expanding service-oriented business in advance of competitors. Building on our accumulated store of intellectual property rights and IT assets, we will create high value-added services that only SCSK can provide, offering these to our customers over the long term.

In April 2015 we adopted an organizational structure that allows us to integrally supply systems development, IT infrastructure implementation services, and system operation and maintenance services to corporate customers in a variety of industries (manufacturing, telecommunications, distribution, finance).

Specifically, we will expand our existing service-oriented business to cover areas including various SaaS applications, currently being deployed at retailers, pharmacy chains, and other customers within the distribution sector, pay-per usage IT infrastructure provision services named "USiZE", and assorted BPO services most notably contact centers. For instance, we are currently offering SaaS-type services that combine ProActive (our propriety ERP package) solutions and USiZE infrastructure.

Through an expansion of such service-oriented businesses, we aim to similarly expand our future growth potential. To effect the transformation toward a high-growth, high-profitability business structure under our Medium-term Management Plan, we will continue to establish new businesses targeted at customer needs and to reinforce our ability to propose new solutions.

2. Promote strategic business that captures the changing times

By effectively using the Company's human resources, technical components, track record, and accumulated know-how, we will focus on growth industries and fields where we can demonstrate our strengths, and carefully allocate management resources in order to achieve the strategic expansion of business while being mindful of their future potential and growth potential.

For example, in the automotive embedded systems business for the automotive industry, the software development required for one model is both high-volume and technically advanced, and there has been rapid progress in compliance with global standards.

Within this environment, in an aim to be the No. 1 vendor/ provider of AUTOSAR (AUTomotive Open System ARchitecture) compatible OSs and middleware (basic software), we will significantly expand personnel and actively conduct business investments for R&D and business promotion.

In November 2014, we entered into a strategic business alliance under which our Automotive Software Business and five IT companies dealing with automotive embedded software will each apply their particular expertise to support the ECU (*1) software development efforts of Japanese automakers and their suppliers, an initiative that we expect to promote our AUTOSAR-related business. As one manifestation of this effort, in October 2015 we began providing QINeS-BSW, domestically produced basic software (BSW) for automotive applications that features our proprietary, real time, AUTOSAR-compliant OS and related services.

3. Second stage of global expansion

The Company defines the “greater Japanese market” as business responding to IT demand accompanying the overseas expansion of customers; in other words, all demand for IT services arising from the overseas expansion of Japanese companies that principally conduct business activities in Japan.

The Company has effectively used the experience and know-how it has developed through the provision of IT support for the global expansion of many customers including the Sumitomo Corporation Group to implement a global strategy of providing high-quality support based on Japanese standards for the “greater Japanese market” in order to increase the sales ratio of global business.

This global strategy will be pursued even further within the new Medium-term Management Plan. In addition to these initiatives implemented up until now, we will enhance our capability for overseas local businesses in strategic businesses set forth in the basic strategies of the Medium-term Management Plan such as automotive software systems business and businesses aimed at large financial institutions in order to further expand our global business.

With regards to the global provision of services for major financial institutions, for example, we intend to enhance our ability to flexibly provide IT services, particularly in Asia, where such institutions are paying attention to for their business opportunities. In addition to strengthening our organizational presence in that region, we will also consider—and, if appropriate, implement or bolster—collaborative arrangements with domestic financial institutions capable of dependably meeting the needs of our customers and/or local firms with financial expertise.

While implementing these basic strategies, we will also work to further reinforce our management base by enhancing operational quality through promoting company-wide development standards and strengthening our project management capabilities, and raise operational efficiency through improving the efficient utilization of offices and operational processes. We also seek to win the further trust and confidence of our customers and shareholders by continuing to develop internal group-wide management structures in such areas as internal control, risk management, compliance, and security management.

Since FY2013 the Company has conducted initiatives for working style reform, called the Smart Work Challenge 20 program, which focuses on reducing overtime and encouraging employees to take their paid vacation days. The aim is to ensure that we have a healthy and motivated workforce capable of engaging in productive, creative, high added-value work for customers and society. In FY2015, we introduced the “Kenko Waku Waku Mileage” program, under which employees are encouraged to strive toward health-related improvement goals over the year, with special incentive bonuses for those who attain their goals.

We are also active promoters of new attitudes toward work. For instance, we have introduced a discretionary work system, a flex-time system, and a telecommuting system. In support of working styles aligned with employees' life stages, we also offer adequate child-care and family-care measures, together with a full employment system up to age 65.

We also provide career support programs to promote female employees' active role in decision making processes. We have set the goal of having 100 female employees in managerial positions by FY2018, and we provide career development support in line with this goal, including a training program to address the issues to do with career development of female employees for each generation.

These efforts by the Company have received a wide range of external recognition, including: 1st place overall in the 2014 and 2015 surveys for Best Companies that Exert Employees Potential, sponsored by the Nihon Keizai Shimbun; a 2015 ; a 2015 Prime Minister Prize, the Advanced Corporation Award for the Promotion of Women (*2); and selection as a Health & Productivity Stock (FY2014 and FY2015) and as a Nadeshiko Brand (FY2014 and FY2015) under a contest jointly conducted by the Tokyo Stock Exchange and the Japanese Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry.

We believe that employees, creating value in an environment where employees can be enthusiastic about their work, vitality and a sense of fulfillment, will drive a virtuous cycle, creating value for customers and society at large, supporting business and earnings growth, rewarding our stakeholders and enhancing our ability to further develop our systems and support in four areas: work-life balance, diversity, health and productivity management, and personnel development.

Through these measures, SCSK is aiming to put into practice its corporate philosophy of “working together to create our future of dreams.”

*1: ECU: Electronic Control Unit, a generic term for an embedded system that controls one or more electrical systems/subsystems within a motor vehicle

*2: The Advanced Corporation Award for the Promotion of Women (*2) a Prime Minister Prize awarded by the Gender Equality Bureau of the Cabinet Office. This award is intended to recognize companies that have made notable contributions to providing a work environment “in which women shine,” including actively promoting women to executive/managerial level positions. While several similar prizes exist in Japan, this award is presented to companies that have made particularly meritorious achievements in this area.

6-2. Overview of Systems to Ensure the Appropriateness of Operations

Presented below is an overview of the current situation for systems intended to ensure the appropriateness of operations.

(1) Compliance system

We have established internal compliance regulations and prepared a Compliance Manual, and our Compliance Committee meets regularly. Also, we conduct continuous training activities for officers and employees, while top-level Company management issues notifications and other communications intended to heighten awareness of compliance matters.

Furthermore, with regards to our system for encouraging internal reporting of potential compliance issues, we have distributed cards to our officers and employees to specify where they should contact. We continue to inform people about this system and work to maintain its effectiveness.

(2) Risk management system

We have established risk management regulations and continually work to monitor and assess risks. Furthermore, with regards to specific risks, we have taken concrete measures at the level of relevant departments.

With regards to unforeseen circumstances that could have a particularly serious impact on our Company, we have prepared a series of regulations for response in emergency situations. Particularly with regards to natural disasters including earthquakes in particular, we have prepared an emergency response manual for distribution to officers and employees. We remain active in this regard by, for example, regularly holding disaster response drills and the like.

In addition, we have established regulations concerning information security and management of personal information. Through this, along with continual training, directives and notifications, we work to inculcate the importance of information security throughout our Company.

(3) Systems for Ensuring the Efficient Execution of Directors' Duties

We have adopted an Executive Officer system under which we clearly separate monitoring functions and executive functions. Here, we have established a Management Committee and other committees to act as advisory bodies to the Chairman and to the President. Furthermore, to promote the efficiency of decision-making/execution processes, we have installed a system under which various deliberations are advanced under a work flow system.

(4) Subsidiary management system

Based on Subsidiary Management Rules, we determine a primary unit in charge for each subsidiary, from there creating and operating a management system covering various subsidiary reporting and deliberative requirements vis-a-vis our Company. We also work to maintain and enhance a work system suitable as a group entity, one that includes: seconding of Directors/Corporate Auditors to subsidiaries; operation of managerial committees within the subsidiaries; distribution of cards outlining our Management Philosophy and Code of Conduct to subsidiary officers and employees; facilitation of audits by our Corporate Auditors' Department and Internal Auditing Department; collaboration and information sharing among auditing departments throughout the group; support for our internal reporting system; etc.

(5) Audit system

Corporate Auditors shall attend Management Committee meetings and other important meetings conducted per regulations/plans formulated by the Board of Auditors, and are also to hold discussions with relevant officers and employees, including top-level managers. We have set up the Corporate Auditors' Department to assist Corporate Auditors, and have appointed employees (the Corporate Auditor staff) to work in this department. Corporate Auditor staff reassignments, evaluations, and the like shall be reported to Corporate Auditors so as to assure a degree of independence from Directors. Regular meetings shall be held with the Internal Auditing Department to promote collaboration and auditing efficiency.

(Note) The above pertains to our systems and current situation as of the fiscal year under review. Under resolutions of the Board of Directors at its meeting on February 18, 2016, we have adopted certain revisions which took effect on April 1, 2016.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with corporate accounting standards generally accepted to be fair and appropriate in Japan, and for the preparation and adoption of such internal controls as Management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements based on our audit as the Independent Auditor. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted to be

In making these risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate for the circumstances, although the objective of the consolidated financial statement audit is not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is appropriate and sufficient to provide a basis for our audit opinion.
