1. Purpose and Reason

Software’s contribution to a safer, more comfortable, and more convenient society continues to be significant, while the society is facing major challenges such as the need to take carbon neutrality measures and rapidly implement advanced digital technologies, including generative AI. This trend is noticeable in the automotive industry, in which the shift toward software defined vehicles (SDVs^{*1}) is accelerating, and robust software development capabilities are required. With this momentum, SCSK has decided to acquire its shares and make Japan Process SCSKs equity-method affiliate and to execute the Capital and Business Alliance Agreement with Japan Process in order to make a greater contribution to development of the automotive industry and various industries through the use of software, and the two companies have reached an agreement in relation to the Capital and Business Agreement.

In order to realize its management philosophy, “Create Our Future of Dreams,” SCSK group is promoting “sustainability management,” of which the aim is sustainable growth together with society. In the mobility field, which is one of SCSK group’s focus domain, SCSK group aim to contribute to a mobility society that is friendly to humans and the earth. by utilizing its knowledge of “mobility × IT”; it is working to evolve itself to a SDM supplier that supports the development of next-generation mobility software/system in the SDM era through provision of a full line of services, including the upstream process of development of mobility

Through this capital and business alliance with Japan Process (the “Capital and Business Alliance”), SCSK will first promote sales cooperation and strengthen its development capability in the mobility field, as well as strengthen relationships for the joint development of high value-added solutions. In addition, it will aim to further improve profitability through collaboration in other industrial areas.

*1: Refers to vehicles whose functions are mainly realized through software in an environment in which vehicles are gradually turning into software-oriented electronic devices.
